PD STUDY GROUP 'OPENS' MEETINGS

See Related Story, Page 12

PALM DESERT — Members of this community's Coordinating Council met last night at Palm Desert Elementary School to discuss the third weekly report in connection with the group's search for some form of local self-government.

Following the urging of The Desert Sun, chairman Roy F. St. Leon announced that a poll of membership revealed a desire to throw meetings open to the press. The group had previously voted to exclude newspaper representatives.

IN AN ATTEMPT to avoid confusion about the group's activities, Ed Dewey suggested that the name of the Council be changed to include some reference to study. "After all," said Dewey, "we are meeting to attempt to learn what — if any — is the best means by which we can achieve a form of local self-government. The name now confuses people with the idea that we are seeking incorporation."

Several names were considered and it was finally decided to keep the name as it now is — Community Coordinating Council—but to include an explanatory line on letterheads that will read "Community Study Council for Local Government."

AN ANALYSIS OF tax assessment districts in the Coachella Valley, gleaned from newspaper articles, was presented by Hal Kapp. He said that there are now no less than 11 separate tax assessment districts functioning in the Coachella Valley that affect the Palm Desert area.

Attorney Harry Cannon listed the five avenues open to local residents in this order — maintain current status as an unincorporated area; become a County Services area; establish a Community Services District; organize under the law that permits establishment of Special Districts, or to

Stoltmann Heads Salton Aero Club

A Palm Springs man — Herbert Stoltmann — has been named President of the Salton Aero Club. Others named at the February election meeting at Palm Springs Airport were Chick Olsen, Riverside, vice president; Oren Beck, Riverside, treasurer; and Dorothy Coleman, Indio, treasurer.

ELECTED TO THE Board of directors were Dr. Grace Song Line and Bud Brewer, Palm Springs; Bob Douthitt, El Centro; Jules Boldissar, Yucca Valley, and press for incorporation.

"THE MAIN difference between County Services Area government and a Community Services District," said Cannon, "is that under the Area Services system, it would be run by the Board of Supervisors. In the case of a Community Services District, the board of directors would be elected by local people and their actions would be taken locally at meetings in Palm Desert."

A community service district, Cannon pointed out, can contract to provide for water, sanitation, parks and recreation, collection of sewage, police and fire protection, streets and library construction and maintenance.

ACCORDING TO Cannon, the assessed valuation of the Palm Desert area bounded by Avenue 40 on the north, the flood control line on the west (excluding Rancho Mirage Annex 2; base of the mountains south of Silver Spur on the south and Cook Road on the west, is $11 million.

The district could issue revenue bonds up to 15 per cent of the area's assessed valuation, he reported.

Following a suggestion by Walter Stearns, Roy F. St. Leon announced that he would appoint sub-committees to discuss and study all five plans which were broached last night.

Russia Plans New Venus Shots

MOSCOW — Russia plans to launch more rockets to Venus in the near future, a Soviet scientist said today.

Dr. Alexander Markov, writing in the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda, said the three-quarter ton space laboratory now speeding toward Venus "ushers in an era of interplanetary flights."

Recognition Of Secretary Withdrawn

Russia Demands End to U. N. Congo Operations

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union said today it no longer will recognize Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld "as an official of the United Nations."

The decision was disclosed in a statement issued here. The Soviets also demanded Hammarskjöld's removal, an end to the U. N. operation in the Congo in a month, recognition of the "legitimate government" of the Congo headed by Antoine Gizenga, condemnation of Belgium and the arrest of Katanga Province President Moïse Tshombe and Congolese army strongman Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu for the slaying of former Premier Patrice Lumumba.

THE RUSSIANS demanded in the statement that the "so-called United Nations operation in the Congo be completed and all foreign troops withdrawn from the country in a month."

The statement added that this would give the Congo people time "to settle their domestic affairs themselves."

The Kremlin began its attack on Hammarskjöld last September when Khrushchev demanded his removal in a speech to the General Assembly.

KHRUSHCHEV PROPOSED that the secretary-generalship be abolished and that Hammarskjöld be replaced by a three-man "presidium," but his proposal won support only from the Iron Curtain countries.

Hammarskjöld replied to Khrushchev's demand with a dramatic statement to the assembly that "I shall remain in my post." The Soviet attack was similar to one launched against Trygve Lie, Hammarskjöld's predecessor in 1950 when he opposed seating Communist China.

Section 14 Up For Hearing

A continued hearing will be held by City Council Wednesday night on the zoning plan for Section 14. City Clerk Shirley Henry has announced that Wednesday's hearing will only involve the north half of the section, with the south half coming up for consideration and discussion at a later date.

The hearing is scheduled at the regular council session starting at 8 p.m. in the council chambers at the city hall.

NATION GIVEN SOGGY GIFT ON VALENTINE'S

By United Press International Valentine weather offered most of the nation today a soggy bouquet of winter forget-me-nots.

Fog crept along the north Atlantic Coast from New York into New England, chill air sliced through the Ohio Valley and brief snow flurries melted in the north-central states and Rocky Mountains.

In the West, showers dampened northern Idaho, spreading to the Pacific and south along the coast to California.

Even the Deep South, where balmy 60s and 70s left overcoats in the closet, reported cloudy skies from Virginia to Florida and rain along the Gulf of Mexico in Texas and Louisiana.

Coffman School, second row, standing, are: Dennis Prosky, third place, Agua Caliente; Michael Janis, second place, Katherine Finch; Bruce Poist, third place, Agua Caliente; Jimmy Cross, third; Nellie Coffman, and Phillip Simpson, second, Nellie Coffman School. Three Injured In Collision at Thousand Palms THOUSAND PALMS — Three persons were injured at 5:34 p.m. Monday when a car and a car pulling a house trailer collided at the intersection of East Ramon Road and Highway 99 here, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Injured were Sterling L. Reese, 76, of the Thousand Palms Motel, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roy Venice, 54 and 50, of Anaheim. Reese pulled in front of the Venice car on Highway 99, and was cited for failure to yield the right of way, the CHP said.

VIEWS ON HOUSING GIVEN TO GROUP

The challenges of government programs in housing and the effects of an expanding economy, the problems of the savings and loan association role in overall housing problems, and the role of management in personnel were discussed today before the California Savings and Loan League's management conference at El Mirador Hotel here.

Speakers were Leo Grebler, professor of Real estate and urban land economics, University of California, Los Angeles; Karl L. Falk, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Fresno, and professor Robert D. Gray, director of industrial relations section, California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

GREBLER CONCLUDED that an expanding economy is the primary context of business operation in this decade, and called for sound administrations to prevent overextension of mortgage portfolios based on expectations of increasing value for all land and improvements.

Falk, a doctor of philosophy with wide experience in both private and public housing problems, called for study of housing needs that makes "good economic and political as well as social sense." Citing improvement in the quality of the national house stock in the past decade, he called for more specific study of housing conditions, and a reduction in land and housing costs.

Gray outlined five management philosophies, called for applying the individualistic philosophy of development within management.

SUN CLASSIFIED ADS OFFER DAILY BONUS

Desert Sun Classified Ads, noted for their results, today are offering an added bonus, John C. Fitch, Classified manager, announced.

Local Airport Given Priority On Federal Aid

Federal aid on the purchase of the Palm Springs Airport by the City of Palm Springs, was even more possible today after City Manager Dan Wagner received "good news" from the FAA.

George M. Gary, District FAA Engineer in Los Angeles, notified Wagner that the Federal Aviation Administration in Washington, D. C., has asked for a special program for airport aid in Southern California, that can be done by Dec. 1, 1961.

Gary told Wagner that the Palm Springs Airport program would qualify and would be submitted by him to Washington with a top priority.

Dial Equipment Building Asked

The city planning commission will conduct a public hearing on a new application by California Water and Telephone Company for a conditional use permit for a dial equipment building at the southwest corner of Amado Road and Sunrise Way, during the commission meeting beginning at 2 p.m., Wednesday.

The new application calls for a 15 foot height limit to the building, and restricts its use to dial equipment only, acting city planning director Jack Bearpaw reported.

IN OLD BUSINESS, the commission will consider a street name study, aimed at eliminating duplication of names or similar prefixes to street names.

Other hearings slated include: —Application by Henry and Esther L. Frank for a lot split in lot four, block five, Vista Acres.

—A continued hearing on the application by Lawrence Crossley

Students Riot in Russia

LONDON (UPI)—Violence erupted around the world today in reaction to the death of former Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba.

In Moscow, hundreds of Afro-Asian and Soviet students battled with police in three separate demonstrations when they tried to storm the Belgian Embassy. The Embassy suffered broken windows and a shattered porch door.

IN NEW DELHI, African students burst into the Belgian Embassy while officials were out to lunch. They wrecked office furniture, overturned files and smashed a picture of King Baudouin of the Belgians.

The students, carrying banners reading "Down with Yankee imperialism" moved on to the U.S. Embassy in New Delhi. Three carloads of police rushed to head them off. But security guards locked the embassy doors while an American official spoke with 10 of the students inside. They left peacefully.

IN LAHORE, Pakistan, 20 placard-carrying, slogan-shouting African students studying in Lahore, Lyallpur and Rawah demonstrated in front of the U. S. Consulate General there to protest Lumumba's death. They handed over to Consul General Andrew Corry a memorandum addressed to President Kennedy.

"We strongly condemn the United States government for the part it is playing in engineering United Nations activities in the Congo which ended in the barbaric murder" of Lumumba, the memorandum said.

IN ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, itself, President Moïse Tshombe charged today that the United Nations brought civil war to Katanga and bathed the land in fire and blood.

"It was only with the arrival of United Nations troops that bands of rebels began to form," the Katangese president said.

He said in a prepared statement that before the arrival of U. N. troops, northern Katanga was peaceful.

NET EARNINGS UP FOR FEDERATION

Financial Federation, Inc. had consolidated net earnings of $5,818,455 before appropriations to general reserves for the year ended Dec. 31, 1960, equal to $4.14 per share on 1,407,083 average number of shares outstanding, Edward L. Johnson, president, told stockholders in his annual report released today.

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan is affiliated with Financial Federation.

Consolidated net earnings for 1959 were $3,725,395, equal to $3.56 per share on the 1,047,417 average number of shares outstanding during that period.

During 1960, assets increased 26.4 per cent to a total of $344,171,032, savings held by affiliated associations increased 30 per cent, up $63.3 million, and total mortgage loans outstanding increased $66 million, or 30 per cent.

FIVE MILLION CANDLEPOWER of light drifts down toward the Salton Sea as the 303rd Air-Sea Rescue Squadron practices illumination for night "ditching" of water-proofed planes. The giant parachute flares reflect on the calm water. To the observer, the scene looked like bright moonlight, with flares lighting the water for approximately three minutes. Two planes dropped approximately two dozen flares in the runs from 4,000 feet, then dropped to a minimum of 1,000 feet to simulate landing runs. (Desert Sun Photo)

Teachers Hear Dr. Weschler

Palm Springs teachers recently attended a tri-county meeting in San Bernardino to hear the internationally famous psychologist Dr. Davis Weschler.

Dr. Weschler's world fame is due to origination of the Weschler Intelligence Scale for Children—popularly known as the WISC test—and the Weschler Adult Intelligence Scale.

Reporting on the meeting, Mrs. Phyllis Coyne, Palm Springs Unified School District psychologist, said that an interesting point stressed by Dr. Weschler the definition of intelligence. "He defined it," Mrs. Coyne said, "as the ability to learn, understand and adapt."

Others from Palm Springs who attended the meeting were James Milliron, assistant principal of Nellie Coffman Junior High; Mel Ausseker, counselor at the same school; Dr. Marian Zannis, psychiatric consultant to Palm Springs School District; and Paul Summit, coordinator of special services.

Venus Fog-Shrouded Mystery

By United Press International
Venus is a fog-shrouded sphere of mystery spinning through space in an orbit between 160 million and 26 million miles from earth. Named after the Roman goddess of love, the planet has almost completely defied efforts of astronomers to probe its surface.

THE PLANET is considered of great interest because scientists feel there is a possibility it may either sustain human life or be somewhat similar to the earth. The planet is slightly smaller than earth, with an estimated diameter of 7,700 miles. It moves around the sun at an average distance of 67 million miles in 225 days.

THE PLANET, like the earth, is enveloped in an atmosphere, but unlike the earth the clouds appear to form a complete wrapping around its surface. Venus shines with a dazzling light because of the great intensity of the solar radiation present. This radiation is almost twice the amount on the earth's surface. The atmosphere of the planet appears to consist mainly of carbon dioxide. For some time it was believed it contained no free oxygen or water vapor.

BUT IN 1959 a telescope sent to an altitude of about 100,000 feet indicated that both free oxygen and water vapor were present, according to American scientists. This discovery has not been completely confirmed.

Scientists estimate that with free oxygen and water vapor present, Venus, because of its nearness to the sun, would be a steaming jungle.

PREVIOUSLY IT had been thought that its surface was nothing but a desert. The latest observations also indicate that the planet does have seasons. The current estimates place its daytime temperature range from about 212 F., the boiling point of water, on its sunny side, to about 10 degrees F. on its dark side.

Venus is the second planet in order around the sun. Closest to the sun is the planet Mercury.

Scouting Deserves Praise, Support

Palm Springs and its neighboring communities join the entire nation in celebrating the 51st anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America with the theme "Strengthen America... Character Counts."

In Scouting, character is the main consideration. A varied and competently-guided program of interesting activities helps guide boys from Cubs to senior Scouts to the deep patterns of self-reliance that undergird personal freedom and our great representative democracy. The precepts of Scouting are embodied in the Scout Oath:

"On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." Each Scout swears to this. The Scout Law he upholds begins with a declaration: "A Scout is Trustworthy."

A Scout is trustworthy. "The fact is, 99 boys out of 100 in active Scout work never become in law violations," Palm Springs police chief Gus Kettmann said this week. He emphasized that "I can count on my fingers all Scouts I've known in serious trouble during my 25 years in police work."

In Palm Springs last year, one police contact was made for approximately one school age person in six. "This figure would include multiple contacts to some individuals," juvenile officer Robert Davis explained. He added that "out of 543 contacts, approximately 100 of them were for moderately serious to serious offenses."

"No active Scout in Palm Springs has ever been in serious trouble—and less than one in 60 has been contacted at all by us," Davis said.

During Easter Week, Palm Springs district Scouts will have a campout near the Cross overlooking this city. They will have fun—they will learn self-reliance—they will be reverent—they will strengthen the fibre of our community.

Scouting here grew from 11 to 16 units this past year. The record won the Palm Springs district the Paul Briskin award for achievement during the year. With more adult leaders, the number of districts could grow quickly, district chairman Robert Hill and commissioner J. M. McFadden declare.

The Desert Sun joins our communities in saluting the work of the Boy Scouts of America here, and urging support of this great work.

The 7 Daring Young Men

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth article of a series by a famed reporter describing how America's astronauts are preparing for manned space flight and what they will encounter in their great adventure.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, VA. — The first astronaut successfully orbited around the earth will be the only man really entitled to use the venerated cliché "it's a small world."

His world certainly will be. Between breakfast and lunch on the great day he will fly around the globe three times, riding an airless, unmarked highway 100 miles high. Each circumnavigation will take 95 minutes. He will experience six "days" and six "nights," see as many sunrises and sunsets.

SOME OF HIS schedules are unnerve to study. On his first pass he will fly from his pad on Cape Canaveral, Fla., to the northwest coast of Africa in 18 minutes. The trip across that broad-backed continent to Zanzibar, just off Africa's east coast will consume 16 minutes.

Then on across the Indian Ocean to the west coast of Australia, near Perth, in 19½ minutes. And over the heart of the island continent and across the Pacific to Guyana, lower California, in 36 minutes. The next leg, from Guyana to the east coast of Georgia will consume just under seven minutes.

HIS EYES WILL command a 1,500 square mile view of the earth below, see California and Kansas at the same time, Nebraska and Florida a few minutes later.

At 17 points around the world, ground and ship stations will track the astronaut's progress, the functioning of his Mercury capsule's myriad gear, and the physical and mental condition of the man himself. This latter is attended to by sensors which read and transmit information about his heart action, breathing, body temperature and pulse. A psychiatrist at each of the 17 stations will check his mental condition. If he has a heart attack or is otherwise incapacitated, the ground station nearest to him can bring the capsule down.

HE WON'T BE alone in space. There are 17 satellites now orbiting earth and sun, 15 of them American. Ten U. S. spacecraft are still transmitting. One of the two big Sputniks still is mute. But the chances are remote that the astronaut will see any of them and beyond the limits of chance that he will collide with one.

The thick hide of the bell-shaped capsule is believed able to survive any peppering from celestial debris — grain-sized meteor — like rubbish whose chief danger lies in the wallop they can deliver because of the speed at which they fly. A meteorite the size of a grain of sand, traveling at speeds up to 160,000 MPH, packs 100 times the punch of a bullet shot from a high powered rifle.

IF ALL GOES well, he'll be too busy to bother about heaven-scraping traffic jams. Astronaut Don Slayton, Air Force Captain, put it laconically at a meeting of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots in Los Angeles:

"If everything works perfect, the pilot's (astronaut's) task will be quite simple. He can devote the entire time of flight to observing and analyzing his and the vehicle's reaction to space travel and should return with an excellent idea of man's capabilities in a space environment."

"If a chain of failure should occur to such things as pressurization, autopilot, communications, and flight instruments, the task would become quite complicated but not beyond the pilot's capabilities to cope with — and we would have an even better idea of man's abilities in space."

LT. ROBERT B. Voas, USN, assigned to the astronauts as a training officer, suggests other ways the astronaut will kill time in space.

"He will be required to make evaluations of the vehicle's function and performance," Voas begins. "He will report to the ground all indications of the vehicle's performance. He must investigate maneuver which were not provided for or anticipated in advance. He is to observe the space environment in which he travels, including the heavenly bodies and the earth below him. He must bring back information which will be valuable to earthbound scientists in such areas as astronomy, meteorology, geophysics, and so forth. He must provide medical data for analysis of the human physiological responses to the space environment."

THE ASTRONAUTS do not talk much about failure. They have all examined the charred and battered remains of the capsule whose Atlas booster blew up at 30,000 feet on an unmanned test last July. What has been recovered from the Atlantic and reassembled is a macabre mess fit to make strong men's stomachs sink.

But the astronauts study the patchy skeleton with the detachment of doctors examining a corpse and diagnosing the strengths and weaknesses it once held. Each seems convinced that if he had been aboard the capsule, the catastrophe would never have happened.

NEVER A DAY passes that fails to see them doing something to sharpen their knowledge of the mission, better themselves, and reduce the chances of catastrophe to a minimum. They have been assisted greatly in the quest by the development of a super or space age Link Trainer, the classic grounded classroom of a generation of pilots.

In this simulator, an exact duplicate of the capsule in which they hope to orbit earth and return, the astronaut can obtain an eerily realistic preview of his voyage. Sealed in, often in his fully flying suit, and strapped securely to his contoured couch, he is presented with just about every known or imagined problem he may eventually face. These problems are given to him by a staff of projectors outside the capsule.

OPERATING THEIR electronic consoles, they send one diabolical message of emergency or despair after another to the instrument boards in the capsule — and study the reactions of the astronaut, the corrective moves he makes, the length of time it takes him to adjust and readjust, and the point at which he pushes what the astronaut jokingly call the "chicken button" — meaning an abort.

The chosen seven must ponder, too, their ability to cope with what will be about four hours of zero gravity — weightlessness. None has known more than one minute of this state, induced by centrifugal force warring evenly with gravity, which enables them to hover above their seats.

THIS IS AN unknown akin to the fears expressed in Columbus' time that if he voyaged too far westward he would fall off the edge of the world — if, indeed, he had not been consumed by gigantic sea monsters before that.

Aviation medicine's top experts hesitate to speak with positive assurance on the effect on man's physiological functions of prolonged weightlessness. A man can stand only a certain amount of time in the water, another element which gives him almost complete weightlessness. Then he quickly deteriorates physically and mentally. Does this apply to weightlessness in space? Will the heart stop, the blood cease coursing, dizziness take over?

THESE ARE questions to which man cannot have answers until the astronauts go up there and find out.

"We're talking through the most expensive hat in history unless we learn soon whether man can live in a weightless state," Mercury's Lt. Col. "Shorty" Powers states. "Man's not going anywhere in space until that's settled."

The men keep their doubts to themselves, if indeed they have doubts. But now and then misgivings emerge. For example, they have found that escape from the capsule as it bobbles on a real or simulated high sea is most trying. Getting out of the neck of the bell-shaped spacecraft has been compared to trying to pull one's clenched fist out of a Ball Mason jar.

Roses are red
And violets are blue
If you had to write this,
You'd be, too.

February 14, Saint Valentine's Day. The day young swains buy the fancy fruited hearts for the girl friend, and the married men, if they remember, take home a box of candy. Generally with a red cover and heart-shaped.

SOMEBODY is always debunking old legends. For years I thought that St. Valentine's Day was in honor of Valentine, a Christian martyr beheaded by Emperor Claudius for his beliefs, and that there was a girl who pined for him and faded away — like old generals do.

But the other day I read a treatise which said this had nothing to do with it.

SAID THIS ARTICLE, there is no connection between lovers, young or old and the saint. The day, it flatly said, probably originated because in the old days it was believed that the birds started to pick their mates along about the Ides of February.

Which, diligent research revealed, was the 14th.

WRITING an essay on Christmas cards some time ago, I brashly stated that the comical Christmas cards, the insulting variety you know, had disappeared and now they were all of extreme dignity, appropriate to the day.

During the next week I received in the mail five Christmas cards of low humor.

SO I HESITATE to write that the comic Valentine is about gone. The green and yellow and red caricatures we used to sneak on teacher's desk on Valentine's day.

I can recall once when an especially grotesque comic was placed on teacher's desk, she went up one aisle and down the other. When she came to my desk, she rapped the pointer three times and said:

"Rupert, don't lie to add to your transgressions. You put that atrocity on my desk. Go to the blackboard and write 'St. Valentine's Day' 25 times."

UNDER PROTEST I did. Got into trouble right away because she wouldn't let me abbreviate. I had to write out "Saint."

In the meantime, Stinky Wallace, three rows over, was almost choking trying not to laugh.

He had put it there.

EVER SINCE that day, my handwriting has declined. Now nobody can read it. Once I wrote in long hand to Mrs. G from Chicago to meet me in San Bernardino, noon, Thursday.

Got a telegram two days later. "Why should I meet you in San Luis Obispo? That's 300 miles. And if you're thirsty, go into the lounge car."

Cost me $6.80 to straighten things out long distance.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Fan Me Gently

He wore a ragged felt hat and a faded red turtle-neck sweater. His mustache drooped above a chin that had not been shaved for a week. He gave me a gentle and sleepy smile.

"Sit yourself in my couch like a prince, señor," he said. "What great fortune that you should choose me of all taxi drivers in Guatemala City to look for sopladores. Me, the greatest expert of sopladores!"

A SOPLADOR is a basket-weave, diamond-shaped fan. It is sold everywhere in Latin America for the sole purpose of fanning up charcoal cooking fires. For a man who barbecues — don't ask me who barbecues — only peasants cook in the kitchen — for a man like me, such a tool is invaluable.

IN OUR SET, EVERYONE barbecues — or dies of social shame. I had a number of orders for sopladores.

"But not the ordinary sopladores," I said. "These are for gifts."

"Naturally," said the unshaven driver briskly. "I have driven many tourists. You wish the decorated sopladores."

"YOU WISH THE fine typical products of the Maya Indians, words woven into the fan: 'Guatemala, Land of Eternal Spring, Or 'Remember Me to Mother'—a noble thought."

"Just with the designs. No noble thoughts."

"Depend on me," said the driver, "as on a mother."

THE MARKET lies behind the Cathedral in Guatemala City. It is a huge square block, jammed with tiny cubicles. Inside, the little Mayan women, in rainbow skirts, sit behind piles of white, red, black and purple beans.

They sell golden mangoes and encrusted pineapples.

THE CUBICLES are piled high with creamy rope of sisal hemp. And the fish market adjoins the Indian who sells live, two-foot lizards.

We wandered through this maze.

"THAT'S THE STORY OF MY LIFE" by box

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: In our office the work day is supposed to start at 9:00 A.M. At exactly 9:00 A.M. in come these three girls who work here, too. They have their hair up in curlers with bandanas wrapped around their heads. They haven't a drop of make-up on. They hang up their coats and go directly to the Ladies' Room where they laugh, talk, comb their hair and put on their faces. They get to their desks at 9:45, fiddle around in their desk drawers and wait until the 10 o'clock coffee break.

I've worked in offices for 28 years and have never seen anything like it, but I am told this is typical. Does this go on in offices where the help is supposed to be earning their money?

DEAR CURIOUS: No. Only in offices where the office manager isn't earning his.

DEAR ABBY: I just found out that my mother's maiden name is on my birth certificate, which means that she was not married to my father at the time of my birth. She is dead now. I know that I am illegitimate, but that's not my problem. I was married at a large church wedding and have four children. I am worried sick over the fact that they are illegitimate because of my history. Where do they stand?

VERY WORRIED
DEAR VERY: You have nothing to worry about. If YOU were married before the birth of your children, THEY are legitimate.

DEAR ABBY: If I don't get help with my problem pretty soon, you will be reading about our family in the headlines. My husband hates our 14-year-old son like poison. (He tells him so to his face.) Our boy has never been in any serious trouble. He's not a very good student, but his father picks on him so much it is no wonder he is always nervous and upset. He is our only child and all this fighting is putting me in my grave. I love my husband, but if I show any affection toward him in front of my son, the boy gets jealous and hurt. And I don't dare to show any love for my son in front of my husband or he gets violently jealous. I feel like a bone between two dogs. Please help me.

A BONE BETWEEN TWO DOGS

DEAR "BONE": The hostility between your husband and son didn't develop over night, and it won't be resolved that quickly. Your husband and son both need therapy. If you can't afford a psychiatrist, get in touch with your local Family Service Association for counseling service.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOWARD: You've been angry too long. Washington's Birthday would be an ideal time to "bury the hatchet."

Who pays for what? For Abby's pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50c to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby answers ALL mail.

HENDERSON, N. C. (UPI) — A customer who cashed a worthless check at Love's shoe store here was arrested the next day when he went back to the store to complain that the shoes he bought pinched his feet.

CLOSED CASE

NEW YORK (UPI) — At City College of New York, the students' best friend is an unidentified voice.

Early one snowy morning last month, College President Dr. Buell G. Gallagher phoned the college and was told "the college is closed today."

Gallagher assumed the registrar had issued the order. Everyone else assumed Gallagher had issued the order. Today, nobody knows who issued the order. But final exams were postponed two days.

RESERVED JUDGMENT

COVENTRY, England (UPI) — Architect Sir Basil Spence said unhappily he has received about 700 letters on his design for the new Coventry cathedral.

"Eighty per cent were rude," Sir Basil said. "The other 20 per cent were very rude."

SHIMANE, Japan (UPI) — Assistant Professor Toshie Otsuka of Shimane University proudly received her doctor's degree. Her thesis: dish washing.

For eight years, Miss Otsuka had collected dishes from homes and restaurants and studied them to see how many germs were left after they were washed.

Dr. Charles Baldwin will be Palm Springs Toastmaster Club representative in the district contest March 9 at Corona as a result of his victory in the elimination contest at La Paz Hotel.

There are now 108 members of the Desert Art Center, with more joining each day. The list includes 36 from all parts of Southern California outside of the Coachella Valley, four from out of state, 29 from Palm Springs, 23 from Cathedral City and 16 from surrounding towns. Of these members, 40 are known to be top ranking professional artists, with 25 more of semi-professional or student standing.

Certainly one of the most noteworthy and interesting of Palm Springs institutions, the Desert Museum, which has been virtually homeless the forepart of the season pending building completion, will open next Wednesday in the east wing of Welwood Murray Memorial Library. The museum will have its own separate entrance on the north.

Regular bus service for Palm Springs was started yesterday by Glenn Martin, who has held the franchise four years. The Urban Transit service makes trips every other hour, its route including Indian Avenue from the Desert Retreat to Bil-A's, Ramon Road to the Roller Rink and high school, and to Cathedral City.

Prevention

An open container or a thin film of salad or olive oil prevents olives from molding during refrigerator storage, says the Spanish Green Olive Commission. As liquid evaporates from the open container, it should be replaced with a two to one mixture of water and white vinegar. If you prefer the oil method, pour a thin layer of oil on brine-covered olives.

Starchy

Here's how to wash starch from the sole plate of a hot iron: rub a damp cloth with plenty of soap and spread it over several layers of paper; run the iron over this to loosen and rub off the starch. If it clings, repeat with a clean piece of cloth, also soaped. Then press over a clean, damp cloth and the iron will glide smoothly again.

A Western version of borsch is a hearty soup. Saute 1 1/4 cups of cooked shredded fresh beets (1 bunch) in 1 tablespoon of butter or margarine a few minutes. Add 1 tomato, peeled and diced, and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice. Cover and simmer 15 to 20 minutes. Add 2 cans of condensed bouillon, undiluted, 1 can of condensed onion soup, undiluted, 1 soup can of water, 2 carrots, grated, and 2 cups of shredded raw cabbage. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Serve hot, garnished with commercial sour cream seasoned to taste with horseradish. Serves 6.

A fabled diamond once saved Persia from war with Russia. The Elgin Institute of Timekeeping reports that the gem, owned by the Shah of Persia, was kept in the Persian treasury.

In 1899, however, the Russian ambassador to Persia was killed by a street mob. To keep the Czar from declaring war, the Persians presented him with the gem — an oblong of more than 88 carats. The diamond now is locked in the Kremlin.

Red Skelton, who hopes to get back to his CBS-TV show on March 7, is planning to tape new openings for the re-runs that will fill in for him starting next Tuesday.

"CBS REPORTS" for Thursday, March 2, will have Edward R. Murrow as reporter - narrator of "A Real Case of Murder," the story of an actual murder case in New York City. The program is one of three completed by Vurrow before he became director of the U.S. Information Agency.
A schedule switch at NBC-TV may put "The Price Is Right" and "Bonanza" into the Monday night schedule. The "Price" replacement on Wednesday night may be "Mother Is a Freshman," a comedy series starring Gertrude Berg.

"JFK — REPORT NO. 1," a full-hour family portrait and progress report of the Kennedy administration's first 40 days in office, is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 28 on NBC-TV.

"Biography of a Baseball Rookie" is in the works as a syndicated documentary out of the David L. Wolper shop. "Jackie Gleason with Putter and Cue" is set for CBS-TV's "Sunday Sports Spectacular" on Feb. 26. The comedian plays golf against pro champ Arnold Palmer and bidders against champ Willie Mosconi.

YOGI BEAR SHOW TOPS FOR ADULTS

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International
NEW YORK — Since there is no reason for mature men and women to feel self-conscious or apologetic about sitting down to watch an adult television program, I am proud to recommend for your viewing pleasure a brand new series.
The title: "The Yogi Bear Show."

UNFORTUNATELY, THIS cartoon show has been described in some misinformed brochures as a kiddie show. We all know, of course, that the kids are too busy watching "adult" Westerns, exotic adventure and crime shows to be side-tracked into watching kid stuff.
Yogi Bear, who carries on in the noblest side-of-the-mouth tradition of Art Carney's monumental contribution to contemporary folklore, is making his syndicated appearance across the nation as the star of his own show, thanks to those unselfish cartoon stylists, Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera, and their worldly agents, Screen Gems.

YOGI HAS HAD stardom in his future ever since he made his first appearance in 1958, as a supporting player in the "Huckleberry Hound" series. At last this giant of Jellystone Park has arrived.

'Story of Susie Wong' Excellent

A top contender for the Academy Award, "The World of Susie Wong" is a picture that should not be missed, and is presently being screened at the Plaza Theater in Palm Springs.

Nancy Kwan, who proves to be a star in this, her first film role, and William Holden, who portrays an American artist in Hong Kong, lead the viewer through a wonderfully moving, visually exciting romance in Susie Wong's world of love-for-pay.

THE ENTIRE picture was shot in Hong Kong, a world of teeming congestion, of wealth and poverty, beauty and ugliness.

The picture, released through Paramount, is the story of an American artist (Holden) who has given himself a year on a limited budget to try his hand at painting. He rents a room at a second rate Nam Kok Hotel frequented by "yum-yum" girls who use it as a rendezvous for plying their trade. Such a girl is Susie Wong, (Nancy Kwan) a beautiful Eurasian, who falls in love with the artist "and wants to become his permanent girl."

THEY FALL IN love, but there is the matter of the artist's Occidental conscience, his wanting her, but rejecting her, his pity, but condemning her, and finally his defiance of convention and acceptance of her.

Also starring in the Technicolor production are English actress Sylvie Syms, as the banker's daughter who also is in love with the artist and tries to win him away from Susie, and Michael Wilding as one of Susie's married "customers." The various girls who meet their "dates" at the hotel are unusual types, all good performers who add to the color and interest of the film.

Letters Continue Cold War on Cultural Front

By GEORGE LAINE

Maybe I'm simply getting oversensitive but it seems that the letters I've been receiving lately read with a great deal more import to our community than most of the columns I personally pen.

For your edification — and to answer those who said Jane Coult's Aguiano was one voice crying in a cultural wilderness — here are some additional missives.

Dear Sir:

This is to commend and to further supplement the letter which appeared in your column recently from Jean Coult's Aguiano regarding the lack of appreciation and understanding of art and culture generally in this area.

It is true that it seems impossible for a painter to find a suitable place in Palm Springs to have a one-man show of paintings. Also there seems to be no hall available to give fine concerts or musical events or where poets or literary persons may be heard or where fine arts and crafts can be shown. Sculptors come here who can find no one willing to use their art; only a few may have some work done after beating down the price to an ordinary artisan's wages. In other words, there exists here a cultural vacuum. People who could and should help to further the arts and sciences, seem to put a dollar before their eyes and shut out the sun.

This does not mean that everyone here is of this mind. Many, mostly those with an old-world heritage deplore this condition and are willing to help better the situation, given the opportunity.

False standards of "fashionable" art ideas are followed and promoted, giving the young a decadent and deceiving idea of true art. Art is beauty and beauty is truth. Truth is very old and very old-fashioned but it is the only ideal to follow. Anything else leads down a blind alley. New ideas are splendid, but they must be based on logic and straight thinking not only for emoluments.

The glory that was Greece and the power that was Rome is remembered through its philosophers its architects and artists while the names of the kings and rulers under which they lived have long been forgotten. Art is the highest achievement of a civilization. "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

What kind of a world would it be without music, art or literature?

Sophie Sturtevant
Desert Hot Springs

You're essentially correct in premise one but I'd like to discuss your second finding. Frankly, one of the reasons that the arts have had such a time of it here on the desert is a lack of fundamental unity between persons dedicated to the perpetuation of the arts. When the bickering between advocates of realist art and abstract art, chamber music and chorales, modern dance and ballet, metered verse and abstract poetry can sit down together and hammer out a working philosophy that will allow them their divergent views while still supporting the essence of art, then we'll have a foundation on which to build a fine and lasting cultural environment.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: Ex-boozie salesman Goodman tells a funny story about his first experience with Wright's line . . . "I was standing in their Sunset Boulevard store, watching the operation, and a waitress placed an order with the ice cream man. She said 'One Scotch.' I found out later that meant butterscotch."

If you haven't seen "The World of Susie Wong," make it . . . Fred Weigel is still raving about it . . .

Tribe Hosts Yucaipa Tonight

Indians to Face DV Leaders

Palm Springs Indians meet Yucaipa High tonight on the local floor as the Desert Valley League swings into a twice-a-week schedule for the second round.

The Indians, beset by injuries and ineligibility rules, are in the basement of the DVL with a dismal 0-6 record although they were touted to be in contention for the start.

YUCAIPA'S THUNDERBIRDS, on the other hand, are undefeated in DVL play to date. They hold a 6-0 mark and figure to go through the DVL without a loss.

Coach Jim Workman's boys were finalists in the Banning holiday tournament and won the Consolation round in the Hemet tourney.

Then things happened and coach Workman has been improvising since to replace players lost for injuries or otherwise.

B TEAMS of the two schools meet at 6 p.m. with the Varsity game scheduled following the preliminary game. In their first round clash at Yucaipa, the Thunderbirds won 54 to 40.

In other games tonight, there's a civil war at Indio where Indio and Coachella clash. Banning meets Twenty-nine Palms in the third game.

Perez Outboxes Abeyta for Nod

OAKLAND — They said it couldn't be done, but Ronnie Perez, a 5-1 underdog, handily outboxed veteran Jimmy Abeyta in a 10-round bantamweight bout Monday night and expects to give his opponent another lesson when they meet again next month.

Perez, a doughty Mexican from Hayward, was substituting for the ailing Manny Elias of Phoenix, Ariz. Perez weighed 122½ to Abeyta's 118 for the contest, which grossed $1,764 at the Oakland Auditorium.

Palmer Fires 67 to Win In Phoenix Open Playoff

By HAL WOOD

United Press International

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Arnold Palmer, the man who blankets the golfing field more than Ben Hogan did in his prime, went on "vacation" today.

He's through with competitive golf for a whole week — and he plans to "rest and practice." The "rest" will be to fly one-night stands for personal appearances for the next few days en route to Florida. When he'll get a chance to practice no one knows.

He must be back at Baton Rouge, La., next week to defend one of the nine crowns he currently wears—or face a $50 fine.

He flew out of here after whipping Doug Sanders in the playoff for the $30,000 Phoenix Open championship Monday — on the same course where he started his professional career.

PALMER FIRED a scintillating 67 at the struggling Sanders in the playoff to pick up first money of $4,300. Sanders got $3,000 for second place. They also split between them half of the money from the gallery and they may pick up another $2,000 each that way, because about 3,000 fans paid $3.00 each to witness the playoff.

In the line of statistics, here is the current Palmer record:

—In seven playoffs, he has won five times.

Favor Het's Pet For Filly Crown

ARCADIA — Het's Pet is favored to win the 3-year-old filly championship in Wednesday's feature at Santa Anita, the $20,000-added Santa Susane Stakes at 1 1-16 miles.

The favorite will compete against Amri-An, Fun House, Mighty Fair, Miss Fourway, Oil Royalty and Possibly Chicha.

The track is dark today.

Don't Alibi came flying off the pace to win the $28,600 San Louis Rey Handicap Monday on the grass course.

Pete Moreno received the 12th annual George Woolf Memorial jockey awards at the track as the rider who in 1960 best exemplified the late Woolf's spirit and courage.

Angels Sign 3rd Rookie Pitcher After Try-Outs

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles Angels have placed pitcher Bill Garcia of Los Angeles under contract with their Dallas-Fort Worth farm club.

Garcia, 24, was the third player to be discovered through the Angels' tryout camp. He had a 0-4 record last year with Memphis of the Southern Association.

Garcia and pitcher Hal Norris, also signed from the tryout camp, will train with the parent club while infielder-outfielder Bob Rous will train with the farm affiliate.

Sultans Seek 11th Straight Victory

The Dick Davis Sultans go for their twelfth straight win in Desert Resort League baseball next Sunday, February 19, when they cross bats with the league's All-Stars.

Sultan manager Ernie Moreno said that the game will be played at Coachella Valley High School field. Game time is 1 p.m.

Three Named to All-East Hoop Team

NEW YORK — Sophomores Fred Crawford of St. Bonaventure, Bill O'Connor of Canisius and Hal Smoker of Bucknell were named today to the weekly All-East basketball team picked by the Eastern College Athletic Conference. Also picked were Ron Warner of Gettysburg and Bill Smith of St. Peter's.

—He has won two of the six tournaments played this year.

The other victory was in a sudden death playoff with Al Balding for the San Diego crown.

—He has won 10 of the last 29 tournaments he has entered.

—He now has won 24 tournaments.

—With the $4,300 he picked up here, he climbed into second place in this year's money-winning race with $12,724 to his credit. Gary Player leads with $14,242.

IN MONDAY'S BATTLE he knocked in a birdie putt on the second hole and never was headed. He was two up at the end of nine holes with a two-under-par 32 against 34 for Sanders. He went three up at the end of 12 holes and his only scare came on the 18th when he hit his tee shot into a tree.

But even with the one-stroke penalty, he got a par and held his lead.

"I played good golf out there," he said after the round. "But I'm not playing as well as I did last summer. It's early in the year yet. But I played well."

I hit three traps and got behind a few trees. But my recoveries worked out."

HIS ONLY BOGEY came on the first hole. After that he played like "Mr. Golf" should — and Sanders didn't have a chance.

For Doug it was a bitter disappointment. He had set a course record of 62 in the final round of regulation play to tie Palmer. But the head-to-head match found him out-hit off the tee by as much as 50 yards.

And on the greens he never had a chance. Palmer sank one birdie putt of 25 feet. And the longest putt Sanders got down was from 15 feet and that was for a par.

Laurye's Loses Second Game in 5 Years of Play

Laurye's Steak Ranch lost its second game in five years of play in the City Basketball League — and again by forfeit. They haven't lost a game on the floor during this time but twice have yielded a game by default.

Playing unofficially, Junior Chamber of Commerce won from four Laurye regulars and one pick-up, 51-27. The game goes into the records, however, as a forfeit.

IT WAS THE THIRD win in a row for Jay Cees who were in the cellar a short time ago and now are in fourth place tied with Bobbie Electric. In the nightcap, Smoke Tree Stables broke a tie for second place with the Joe Lewis Juniors by defeating them 65 to 63.

Smoke Tree took a 30-23 half-time lead and went on to overwhelm their opponents 35-20 in the second half.

MIKE APRICIO was high man for the winners with 12 points, ten from the floor and two from the gift line.

Wilfred Lucas scored 11 for the losers with four field goals and three free throws.

The games were played on Monday night because of a high school game tonight on the gymnasium floor where the City League games are played.

Standings of the loop today:

Team	W	L	Pct	PS	PA

Local Quintets Meet Redlands

Two City League basketball teams will go to Redlands Wednesday to meet the Redlands Merchants in a doubleheader at the Redlands High gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

Mazzula Masonry and Bonnie Electric teams will make the trip. On the following Wednesday, Smoke Tree Stables will play the Redlands Merchants there.

Dr. Johnston Winner Of Parker Trophy

Dr. Almon Johnston won the Virginia Field Parket Trophy tournament at Shadow Mountain Golf Club during the weekend defeating Ellison Fredricks one up in the finals.

Thirty two players qualified for the event which started early last month with matches each week.

Play in the annual Bet-n-Cliff Pitch and Putt tournament reached the quarter final stage last weekend.

Mrs. Frances Brugman, Mrs. Jean Wood, Mrs. Adrian Hubble, and Mrs. Oliver Byerly are in the round.

Winners will meet in the semifinals February 20 with the finals scheduled for Feb. 27.

Women Start Play

Play starts Wednesday at Thunderbird Country Club in the 10th annual Women's Club championship to continue through Friday.

Four women tied for medalist honors in the Championship Flight, all with 85s.

They were Peggy Lester, Marg

Thompson, Jan Stendel and Marydel Guelich.

Viola Morse carded an 86, Bunty Griffin, 87 and Marian Williams, 89.

Match play will continue at 18 holes each day through Friday.

Rosi Still Seeks Chance at Crown

NEW YORK — Lightweight Paolo Rosi keeps hoping for another title bout and although it may be a long time coming he cleared another hurdle Monday night with a unanimous 10-round decision over Tommy Tibbs of Boston.

The 32-year-old Rosi punished Tibbs with stinging rights to the body and straight lefts to the head to earn the votes of all three ring officials at St. Nicholas Arena.

Craig Inks Pact With Dodgers for Another Season

LOS ANGELES — Pitcher Roger Craig, 1960's hardluck player, will be throwing for the Los Angeles Dodgers again this season.

He and three rookies joined the Los Angeles fold Monday by sending their signed contracts to General Manager E. J. Bavasi.

Craig had ended the 1959 season in brilliant form as a key man in the Dodgers' pennant drive.

At the beginning of last season Craig expected to pick up where he had left off, but on May 2 he was bowled over covering the plate in a game with Cincinnati and suffered a broken collarbone. That disabled the pitcher until June 20 and he didn't earn a starting assignment until July 4.

Craig later said that had it not been for the collision at the plate with Vada Pinson he might have had his finest season.

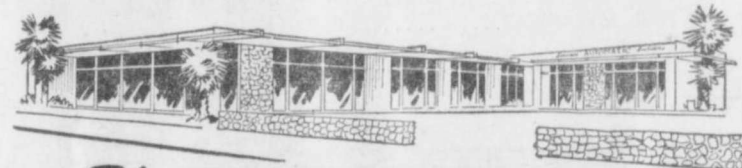

He did well enough, however, for the lanky hurler finished the year with an 8-3 record and a 3.26 earned run average which got him a raise and boosted his salary to about $18,500.

Pitchers Thad Tillotson and Rick Warren and infielder Bobby Aspromonte were the rookies whose contract signings were announced.

With the Dodgers leaving for Vero Beach, Fla., Sunday, only four players remained unsigned—shortstop Maury Wills and outfielder Don Demter from the regulars and pitchers Ed Bakow and Phil Ortega.

Angels to Surprise Experts In First Year in AL Race

Much Better Than Rated Believes Vet

Truman Clevenger, right-handed pitcher for the new Los Angeles American League Angels who will be here next week to start spring training, believes the club will surprise a lot of experts in their first year in the loop.

"In my opinion," he said, "the Angels are a much better club right now than the Washington Senators team I played with in 1957, 1958 and 1959."

"We can be pretty good," said the veteran who has pitched in 263 major league games. "I know we will be much better than anyone thinks we will."

AS FOR HIMSELF, Clevenger can't wait for spring training to begin February 24th at Palm Springs.

"It was just great," he said when he learned the news that he had been selected by the Angels. Physically Clevenger says he is in excellent condition and feels that he will have a good year this coming season.

If coincidence means anything, Dame Fortune can smile broadly in his behalf because the scout who signed him to his first professional contract in 1953 is the same man the Angels signed as their first talent - hunger, the venerable and successful Tom Downey.

DOWNEY ORIGINALLY signed Clevenger for the Red Sox and little did either of them dream that they'd be on the same club again eight years later in baseball's newest venture.

Outside of his first year in pro ball when he won 16 games and lost only two for San Jose, this will be first experience in playing in his native California.

Clevenger, tall, handsome and 26 years old, has the "greatest baseball thrill" a performance that is probably one of the game's most unusual, insofar as thrills are concerned.

IT WAS IN 1959 and Washington had lost 18 straight games. Clevenger made his first start of season in game No. 19 and went all the way to end the losing session by defeating Cleveland, 9 to 0, while hurling a six hitter.

Clevenger, used both as a starter and in relief that season, pitched in more games than any other twirler in the league, a total of 55.

After American Legion and high school play in his native Visalia, Calif., Clevenger attended Fresno State College for three years before embarking on his baseball career.

Stramps Rolls for $55,000 Pin Jackpot

HOLLYWOOD — Bob Strampe of Detroit rolls next Monday night for a $55,000 jackpot after defeating Glenn Allison of St. Louis five strikes to four to retain his "King of the Hill" bowling title for a fourth time on the nationally televised Jackpot Bowling Show.

Pancho Segura Gets in Practice At Tennis Club

Pancho Segura, resting up for two weeks from his pro tour with the Jack Kramer tennis tour, came down to Palm Springs last weekend for a brief lay-off and took to the courts at the Tennis Club almost as soon as he got here.

Segura decided to get in a bit of practice on his rest period and took on Vina Rurac, Tennis Club pro, in an exhibition match Sunday. Segura won, under pro set rules, 8-3 over the local pro.

Interested spectator to the match was Eko, Rurac's championship German shepherd.

Savitt Holds on To Indoor Title And Quits—Again

NEW YORK — Dick Savitt, the U.S. national indoor tennis champion for the third time, is singing an old familiar tune.

"That's it as far as big time tennis is concerned for me," he said after Monday's 6-2, 11-9, 6-3 triumph over Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif. "I wouldn't even have played this year if I didn't have the chance to retire this trophy."

Savitt, 33, has said the same thing over and over again for the last three or four years but he insisted this time, "I mean it." A crowd of only about 800 turned out at the Seventh Regiment Armory to see the New York City oil executive overpower Reed, 28, the seventh-ranking U.S. player.

Battle of Sexes Starts Today in 54-Hole Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla. — A select field of golf's men and women professionals set out on a 54-hole, par-three journey today with $10,000 in prize money providing the impetus to decide the long-debated question as to which group has the better short game.

Slamming Sammy Snead and long-hitting Mickey Wright led a field of 24 men and women stars into the first round of a 54-hole tournament at the Palm Beach par-three golf club with two more rounds Wednesday to settle the issue.

Firing for the touring male pros are Snead, former PGA champion Dow Finsterwald and Chick Hurbert, former U.S. Open champion Lew Worsham, little Bob Toski and handsome Shelley Mayfield.

Battling them too will be six home pros, including course record-holder Clyde Usina, former U.S. Open champion Johnny Farrell and Tommy Armour, former PGA champion Henry Picard, were Bobby Cruickshank and Dub Pagan.

Joining Miss Wright from the ladies pro ranks with another $1,200 at stake for the female leader are Betsy Rawls, Louise Suggs, Marlene Hagge, Mary Lena Faulk and Patty Berg.

Six amateurs rounding out the field include six-times U.S. Amateur queen Glenna Collett Vare.

HIGH-SPEED DENTAL equipment, augmenting and broadening the facilities of the Welfare and Friendly Aid's Dental Clinic, was presented to the clinic by the Pathfinders, local philanthropic organization. Here are Mrs. Charles Baldwin, clinic chairman, acknowledging receipt of the equipment from Pathfinder representative Mrs. Earl Henderson.

Mueller, Eliot Named to DHS Chamber Board

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — George Mueller, public pool operator, and Charles Eliot, building contractor, have been named to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors here for terms extending to 1962, president Robert G. Lester announced.

The appointments were made to replace resigned members Ted Spellaza and the Rev. Charles Harwood.

Attorney Rosalind Bates, who has law offices in Los Angeles and here, recommended formation of a speakers' bureau to publicize Desert Hot Springs. The attorney, who urged emphasis of climate and the hot mineral water baths, volunteered her services for a bureau.

Menus Listed For This Week To Aid Mothers

Menus to be served in schools in the Palm Springs Unified District this week are listed below to aid mothers in avoiding duplication of meals.

High School:

TUESDAY — TAMALE pie or hot beef sandwich; buttered peas or whipped potatoes and gravy; hot rolls and butter; fruit cup, green salad, combination salad or fruited gelatin; Valentine cake, chocolate pudding or cherry pie; milk.

Wednesday — Hamburger gravy on mashed potatoes or chow mein with Chinese noodles; buttered green beans or mashed potatoes; hot rolls and butter; fruit cup, green salad, relish plate or fruited gelatin; sponge cake with pineapple glaze topping or apple pie; milk.

THURSDAY — CHILI beans with hamburger or meat and vegetable stew; buttered corn or potatoes; hot rolls and butter; fruit cup, green salad, cabbage and apple salad or jello cubes; devil's food cake, peach cobbler or coconut cream pie; milk.

Friday — Tuna and noodles or baked fish with tartar sauce; buttered carrots and peas or potatoes; hot rolls and butter; fruit cup, green salad, perfection salad or cottage cheese and apricot salad; applesauce cake, prune whip or lemon pie; milk.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS:

Tuesday — Italian spaghetti, green salad, buttered French bread, fruited gelatin, Valentine cookies, milk.

WEDNESDAY — CHILI beans with hamburger, carrot and raisin salad, buttered corn bread, half orange, milk.

Thursday — Roast turkey in gravy on potatoes; cranberry square molds, buttered whole wheat bread, ice cream, iced cake, milk.

Friday — Tuna patties with cheese sauce, buttered spinach, celery sticks, buttered whole wheat muffins, sliced apricots, milk.

FAST PD 'CITYHOOD' SAID FAR-FETCHED

PALM DESERT — Reports of imminent incorporation, or some other form of "cityhood" for this community are "far-fetched, and not based on fact," according to Edward Dewey, public relations chairman for the recently formed Community Coordinating Council of Palm Desert.

Dewey's remarks were prompted by publication of a series of interviews with prominent Palm Desert businessmen, in which they were quoted as saying that "incorporation is being studied."

"OF COURSE," SAID Dewey, "any of the various persons quoted in a Riverside newspaper are free to express their own opinions at any and all times. It must be noted, however, that these opinions do not necessarily reflect the joint feelings of the full membership of the Community Coordinating Council of Palm Desert."

Roy F. St. Leon, Palm Desert real estate man and chairman of the Council, agreed with Dewey, stating: "I was called by a reporter and asked to comment upon incorporation. I told him that the Council had reached no conclusions of any kind. That the entire membership was studying problems facing our community in its ever-increasing growth."

"ONE PARTY" quoted by the newspaper, while president of an association which is represented on the Council membership panel, is not himself a member of the Council.

"To say that an incorporation move was launched by the Palm Desert Realtors Association is stretching credulity. The Realtors Association has one delegate and one alternate on the Coordinating Council. Likewise represented are the Chamber of Commerce, Women's Club, various service clubs, The Desert Community Association, and other similar groups."

SPEAKING FOR the Council as a whole, Dewey reported that to date two meetings have been held. He said that the first meeting, which was open to the press, was merely an organizational affair. The second meeting was a private one with press excluded.

"At our second meeting," said Dewey, "members of the council merely attempted to define the confines of Palm Desert. Tentative boundaries were discussed, but purely on a speculative basis. The Council has no basis for knowing if any form of local self-government is practicable at this time."

"WE SEEK improvement of our due course of time publish a full report of the entire Council's opinions and recommendations to the people as a whole."

Both Dewey and St. Leon said that they plan to poll council members with an eye to opening all future meetings of the group to the press and the general public — a move which was urged by The Desert Sun at the time that the Council decided upon closed, or "star chamber" sessions.

Check by County Sheriff's Office Brings Arrest

INDIO — Hoff Stewart, reportedly of the Tucson, Ariz., area, is in jail here today after Palm Springs police picked him up following a check by sheriff's deputies in the Rancho Mirage area.

Stewart was stopped at 5:15 a. m., Monday, in Rancho Mirage because the vehicle he was driving bore only one Arizona license tag, and no new sticker. His identification listed him as William Tumstoll. A check of registration in Arizona revealed the license plate was stolen. Stewart told Palm Springs police he had taken the identification papers from his brother-in-law. He is being held here pending further investigation.

Check Cotton Seed

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Farmers who store their own cotton planting seed are cautioned by Texas A&M College to check the seed for stored grain pests. Pests will infest the seed if a large portion of the seeds are cracked or if the seed is stored in infested bins.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS in school libraries in Palm Springs are shown working at the 600 book display held at Cielo Vista School this week. Volunteers are mothers of pupils in schools throughout the Palm Springs Unified School District. Representatives of the library volunteers are, from left, Mrs. Lois Rainbold, Cahuilla School volunteer; Mrs. Eva Jadulang, Cielo Vista; Mrs. Jacque Moe, Agua Caliente; and Mrs. Jean Gillam, Katherine Finchy. Volunteers work schedules varying from two hours daily in Cahuilla School, to twice weekly in other schools. (Desert Sun Photo)
